

Verify and Compare Off-Air Feeds

- On-going recording of off-air feeds
- Use to monitor for silence and black
- MPEG4, H.264, WMV
- Review material from web browser
- Displays closed captioning
- Store a year of off-air feeds per station
- Offers variable data rates up to broadcast quality
- Save clip on DVD
- Simultaneous comparison of multiple stations
- User definable alarms
- Search by date and time stamp
- Step and/or scrub forward or backward
- Create a clip with mark in/mark out points
- Publish to the Web
- Attach clip-mail
- Monitor multiple stations locally or from remote location

Digital Broadcast's MediaView gives you continuous recording of your off-air feeds and allows you to review the material from any access-permitted desktop computer.

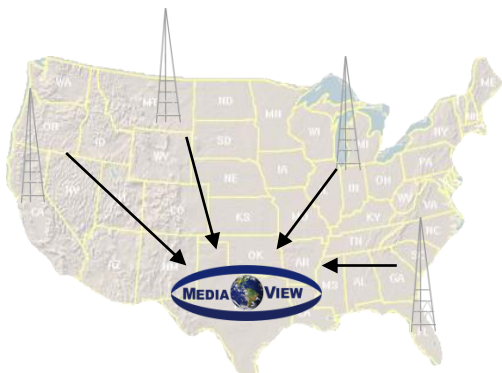

Storing up to a year's worth of off-air feeds per station, MediaView provides quick search capability plus easy recording of defined segments for email attachments. It can also provide simultaneous comparison of multiple station off-air feeds.

With MediaView you can check your station's over-the-air advertising as well as monitor your competition's advertisers. MediaView provides an easy way to verify that music license agreements and rights have been properly used by the station.

MediaView provides you the ability to publish news to the Web. It offers variable data rates up to broadcast quality.

You can also use MediaView to monitor for silence and black. As well, multiple stations can be monitored either locally or from another location within the U.S.

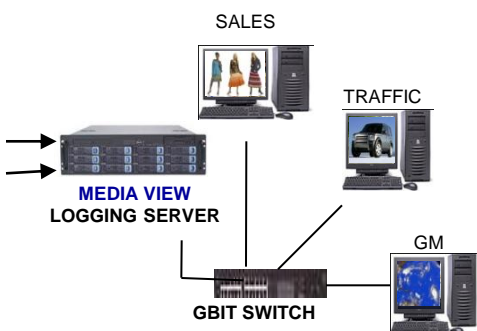

mediaVIEW

View feeds from other locations at a central site or Compare feeds in your own city

View from any access-granted computer

View up to four channels on a single screen

Straight forward controls allow you to select date and time, scrub and step forward and backward, mark in and mark out, and attach to an email.

DIGITAL BROADCAST

Specifications and features subject to change without notice

2731 NW 41st Street
Gainesville, Florida 32606
352-377-8344

www.digitalbcast.com